Opioid Response Network

Meet the Opioid Response Network New England Team

The Opioid Response Network (ORN) delivers evidence-based education and training at no-cost. Our ten regional teams connect communities and organizations with the right expertise and educational resources on opioid and stimulant use disorders. The ORN New England (Region 1) team works across Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

We're here to help you, help others!

ORN is working in rural communities and cities across the region. We are an active, critical resource for those on the front lines. We are funded through the State Opioid Response/Tribal Opioid Response-Technical Assistance program from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration and we are providing urgently needed educational opportunities.

Our Goals are Your Goals
